

LAXATIVE SENT FREE TO TRY

It may be taken for granted that there is no family that does not sometime need a laxative. If you don't know of a good laxative, or the laxative you are using is losing its effect, we want to call your attention to Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of families are using successfully.

We have scores of letters from mothers, and scores from prominent men saying they are using it personally and giving it to their families. Men like Mr. C. K. Smith of the Traffic Clearing House, Pine Bluff, Ark., and Mr. George B. Turner, a lawyer of Harlan, Ky. The thousands of mothers who use it themselves and give it to their children would take too much space to mention.

The reason they prefer Syrup Pepsin is that it is a mild, gentle laxative.

tive- tonic that does not gripe—effective and yet so mild that babies can take it. Its tonic ingredients invigorate the body and strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles so that they again do their work naturally. If you have been a victim of salts, pills and strong cathartics you will discard them when you once use Syrup Pepsin.

You can buy a fifty cent or one dollar bottle of any druggist, but before doing so you may want to try it free. If so, send your address to Dr. Caldwell and he will promptly forward a free sample bottle. Then, being convinced, do as others are doing and buy it in the regular way of your favorite druggist.

For the free sample address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 402 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

A Premeditated Act

Some new tenants occupied the flat below the Kings. The occupants of the Le Rex apartments were noted for their sociability. But to all events and purposes the Swifts were exclusive and did not seek other company than their own.

"I don't understand it at all," confided Mrs. Jennings as she seated herself on Mrs. King's back porch. "The poor thing is so abused. How her husband talks to her. He doesn't talk, he yells, shouts, screams and shrieks at her."

"Don't she answer him?" questioned sympathetic Mrs. King.

"The angrier he gets, the more she laughs and even when I've seen her go out he continues to scold and gibber jabber to himself. Once I heard that man fairly exult because she was suffering with a sore throat."

"Probably for the first time in the twenty years of your existence you'll know enough to keep quiet," he said. "Something mysterious about them. Never a soul calls on them."

"Oh the butcher's boy informed me they just moved from another town. I called there one afternoon and though no one answered the door bell I could distinctly hear peals of laughter. Listen to that now."

"Can't you ever stop, you mummy skull," came the words from a distance in an exasperated tone. "I'll throw something at you if you utter another syllable."

"Heavens, if worst comes to worst and any attempt is made to harm that exquisite child-like wife, I'll hasten to her rescue."

Things seemed to go from bad to worse in apartment No. 2. Strange, however, when the young couple left the flat together, they could easily have been mistaken for a congenial, happy, care free pair.

The neighbors felt diffident about calling on Mrs. Swift until Mrs. Jennings appointed herself as committee of one to make a formal visit. As she approached the door a masculine voice could be heard saying:

"I'll not put up with this any longer. You think that you can swear at me until eternity, but you're mistaken. Some day I'll wring your neck."

Mrs. Jennings flew back to her flat and telephoned the police that a man was threatening his wife and her life was endangered, then waited in breathless horror.

Mr. Swift was amazed to see a big burly policeman when he opened the door, razor in hand.

"No, we don't keep a dog," he said impatiently.

"But you keep a wife, where is she?" said the policeman, looking at the razor meaningfully.

"My wife is downtown shopping."

"A likely story. Didn't you threaten to wring her neck a few moments ago?" "Maybe you found cutting it easier."

"To wring my wife's neck?" repeated Mr. Swift in astonishment.

Just then a voice came from the dining room saying: "Go to h—, Go to h—."

"Come with me and I'll introduce you to the party whose neck I'll wring the first opportunity, regardless of all the gossiping neighbors and policeman in the world," said Mr. Swift.

When the policeman saw an ugly green parrot winking at him he uttered a few choice oaths apologized for his intrusion.

The neighbors must have been informed who the anticipated victim was, as the next day Mrs. Swift was surprised at her sudden popularity and of all the articles most admired in her home the parrot was most admired.

"Losing the Drop."

"When a man whips out a gun and gets 'the drop' on you, there's nothing else to do but throw up your hands and let him have whatever he wants."

"That's where you fool yourself," said the man from the southwest. "If a man has the nerve he can face a gun and get away with it—sometimes. I remember seeing in a border saloon an Englishman pull a gun on a Mexican whom he had caught cheating in a game of cards."

"You give me back the money you've won from me or I'll blow your head off!"

"You will?" said the Mexican, looking calmly into the muzzle of the Englishman's revolver. "Well, you won't do it just now; that gun's not loaded."

"What's that?" exclaimed the Englishman, turning the revolver toward himself to look into the chambers. And on the instant the Mexican drew a knife and planted it to the hilt in the Englishman's stomach."

Qualified for Free Trip.

"I want a pass," said a forlorn-looking individual as he entered the office of J. J. Geary, general passenger agent of the Northwestern Pacific.

"Pass?" queried Geary. "You're not entitled to a pass. You are not an employe. Sorry."

"No," answered the individual, "but here the anti-pass law says free transportation can be granted to necessary caretakers of live stock, poultry and fruit." Well, I'm going on this trip with an aunt that's a hen, there's your poultry; a girl that's a peach, there's your fruit, and a nephew that's a mule, there's your live stock. I think I am entitled to a pass."—San Francisco Call.

ONLY WOMAN JAILER

Veritable Amazon Has Unique Position in Rhone Valley.

Record of Madame Jenny Porchet During Husband's Illness for Three Years, Makes Her Choice for Place.

Berlin.—Woman's rights, indeed! What more could the most ardent suffragette desire than to control the liberties of scores of more men. That is the privilege of Mme. Jenny Porchet, aged 51—the only official woman jailer in the world.

Her prison lies in the pretty town of Aigle, with a population of 4,000, in the valley of Rhone. It forms part of an imposing range of castellated buildings, the most conspicuous in that region.

Thirty years ago Mme. Porchet married the chief warden of the Aigle prison. When her husband became seriously ill she acted in his place without the local authorities being aware of the fact. Then after three years' illness, Porchet died and the place of chief warden becoming vacant applications were filed. Several men applied for the post, which is fairly well paid and many of them had excellent credentials. Mme. Porchet, however, presented herself before the local commission, explained that during the three years' illness of her husband she had carried on his duties so as not to lose the place, had introduced several minor reforms which had strengthened discipline, and at the same time made the prisoners more contented. She concluded that she could carry on the same work without fear or favor if the commission would support her.

"I know it is an unusual request to make, for a woman to rule male prisoners and keep them in order, but I am not frightened of a man or half a dozen of them."

This statement brought smiles and nods of approval from the members of the commission, for Mme. Porchet is a veritable Amazon nearly six feet in height, powerfully built, and in the prime of health. Her face shows a character as strong as her frame, with powerful square jaws, a large mouth and piercing but kindly eyes.

"Gentlemen," she continued, "you may still think that if I were attacked by a prisoner I would be helpless. Will you kindly ask the heaviest gendarme on the premises to step here so that I can demonstrate to you what I could and would do with a man who dared to attack me."

The president asked Mme. Porchet to retire and after the commission had considered the matter for a quarter of an hour she was informed that it was unanimously agreed to give her a year's trial and if she gave satisfaction the post would be a permanent one.

There was a touch of the feminine in the result, for this strong woman had tears in her eyes when she heard the verdict.

"Gentlemen, I thank you," she said, "and I am sure that I will give you every satisfaction. I did not want to appeal to your sympathies as I have seven children to bring up and the loss of the position would have meant much to them and me."
